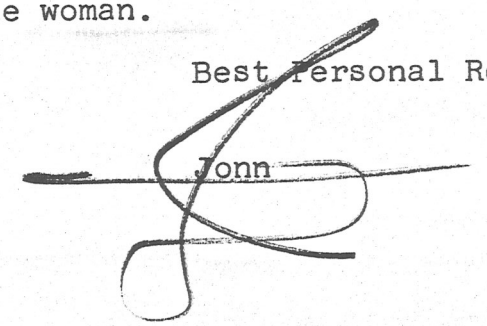
Hal:

The missals are classics, absolute bloody CLASSICS!!!

I've Xeroxed a file copy for your continuing library just in case you might need them. Also, have no idea what Madam Field's personal check connotated, other than you probably tossed it in by mistake; perhaps the copy will come in handy also.

Am about to wipe away the saliva and woodshed your latest ------ more when I return to consciousness. My best to your incredible woman.


Best Personal Regards,
